

Ms. Yasaman Sharifmanesh is a documentary filmmaker, journalist, and photographer dedicated to capturing the human crises in the Middle East.

She studied cinema at Tehran Sooreh University and earned a master's degree in Media and Communication from Lund University. Her previous film, shot in Afghanistan, received the Best Nordic Documentary award in 2021. Currently, she is working on three different documentary projects in Syria. Her latest documentary, "I Am an Olive Tree," is set to be released next year.